
Industry problems

Reliable and uninterrupted power supply to consumers through efficient management of distribution grids is impossible without solving of regular industry issues.